

ACTOR GETS AWAY WITH REPRIMAND

Comedian Pleads Guilty to Being Drunk at Hearing on Crash Into Taxicab

One wee little sip of whisky was taken by Charley Chase, film comedian, before his machine crashed into the stars and end of a taxicab on Hollywood Boulevard last Monday morning. He admitted yesterday to Municipal Judge Baird at his hearing on a drunk charge.

"Perhaps there was an alcoholic odor on my breath at the time of the accident, but I absolutely was not drunk nor even a bit tipsy," the actor explained to the magistrate, who however, pleaded guilty to the charge of being intoxicated, rather than under the inconvenience of a public court trial and was given a fine air of leniency in justice. Inasmuch as no one was hurt in the accident, Judge Baird agreed that Chase should be released with a severe reprimand.

After returning to the stars and to his cab, Chase is said to have driven off at an excessive rate of speed. Policemen Kelly, Rice and Hombach gave chase and stopped him four blocks distant. Chase explained he did not believe it was done to him in the taxicab and proceeded on his way. Frank Velze police reported.

PAYNE ASKS OPINION ON AUDIT QUIZ

Would Like to Know if He Has Right to Demand Grand Jury Affidavit

A written request from County Auditor Payne was received yesterday by County Counsel Mattoon asking the county's legal department to render an opinion as to whether Payne has the right to demand an affidavit from the grand jury inquiring into the nature of the audit and stating whether or not all of the auditors employed were on the pay roll at all times, question which started a heated controversy between the grand jury and Payne's office.

Although rumors last night were that the County Counsel had already prepared an opinion backing Payne's stand, Mattoon asserted that only some preliminary work had been done on the matter, such as gathering available authorities, and that no opinion would be forthcoming until the counsel and his deputies meet on it in conference next week.

As to the right to inquire into the affair of the grand jury in financing the audits of the outdoor relief department of the county charities and of the county mafus, Payne said it is located with considerable importance. It will also have a bearing on the status of approximately $87,000 previously spent by the grand jury.

The official opinion of the County Counsel was asked by County Auditor Payne when F. T. Hitter, grand auditor, refused to furnish an affidavit detailing the nature of his audits upon Payne's request.

Young to Deny Wilson Pardon

An asserted move to obtain a pardon for Herbert Wilson, convicted of murdering his partner, here in the Los Angeles County Jail, will receive no assistance from Gov. Young, who yesterday announced he would not grant Wilson a pardon.

The move was said to have been backed by government agents who took Wilson to Ohio recently to testify in another case. Wilson is now under indictment here for mail robbery. He received a life sentence in San Quentin for murder.

Frank Shaw Passes at 74

Frank Shaw, Los Angeles insurance and real estate man and resident of this city for eighteen years, died suddenly at his office, 1026 Story Building, late yesterday afternoon. He was 74 years of age.

Born in Philadelphia, Mr. Shaw lived for many years in Denver before coming to Los Angeles. He was a life member of the Shrine in that city.

Mr. Shaw leaves no close relatives. The body is at the W. H. Brown Funeral Home, Eighteenth and Flower streets. Funeral services will be announced later.

Still Seized in Exclusive Home

Balding a residence in the exclusive West Hollywood district last night, George Contreras, prohibition enforcement officer for Dist. Atty. Keays, arrested two men and a woman and confiscated a two-story still, 145 gallons of whisky and other liquor manufacturing paraphernalia. They gave their names as Fred Wilson, C. J. Empens and Mrs. Alma Empens. They were charged with violation of the Wright Act and operation of a still.

COOLIDGE PRESENTS PLAN FOR NATION'S PROGRESS

Warms of Prosperity Test While Urging Full Development of Resources and Defense

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17. (P)—A national program calling for internal improvements, development of the country's defenses and the promotion of peace was outlined tonight by President Coolidge in cautioning against the "test of prosperity" facing America. Speaking before a distinguished audience of business leaders at the Union League of Philadelphia in a brief visit to this city, Mr. Coolidge gave a comprehensive report of the nation's affairs, and then detailed his hopes for the future in the most complete way he ever has attempted outside of a message to Congress.

The President spoke after he had given the gold medal for distinguished public service and honorary membership in the Union League to members of the Board of Trade and the Chamber of Commerce.

After touching upon the rise and fall of oil, Chase is said to have been riding with him at an excessive rate of speed. Policemen Kelly, Rice and Hombach gave chase and stopped him four blocks distant. Chase explained he did not believe it was done to him in the taxicab and proceeded on his way. Bay District Home Revealed as Arsenal for Mexican Border Shipments

ALBANY (Cal.) Nov. 17. (P)—Correspondence said by police to link a United States Senator with a plot to smuggle arms to Mexican revolutionists and an arsenal of machine guns, rifles, pistols, brass knuckles and ammunition for the various firearms, were seized today in a raid on the sixteen-room home of John Mannerman, head of the Pacific Arms Company, San Francisco.

The raid is said by the San Francisco Chief of Police to have been conducted after officials of Cleveland and Kent, O., had telephoned here, saying they had heard the munitions were intended for eastern gangsters. Mannerman, indicted by the Federal grand jury last summer on charges of conspiring to smuggle arms into Mexico, is sought by police tonight, while an Alameda county warrent charging felonious possession of machine guns is being prepared.

SEIZED WEAPONS

The seized weapons include six machine guns, one of Lewis, one of Browning, and three of Garand, and 40,000 rounds of machine gun ammunition. Many German Luger pistols and some United States M1911 automatics were also seized. In each of the sixteen rooms, instead of the household furniture expected, the officials found packing cases filled with weapons and ammunition. The raiders filled a large truck with the confiscated article.

British Cruiser Takes Troops for Hankow as Preparation; Famine Widespread

SHANGHAI, Nov. 17. (AP)—The situation in China is becoming increasingly difficult and complicated by the military difficulties aggravated by famine conditions that affect 9,000,000 tons of people in the provinces of Shantung and Chihli.

Heavy fighting is reported along the Tsin-Tsin-Pukow Railway north of Mukden. The gravity of the situation has compelled both the Japanese and British naval authorities to take action.

The Americans have dispatched the gunboat Asheville to Yuengkong, where they are said to believe negotiations have been directed especially against Americans. The British today sent the cruiser Invictive up the Yangtze River with troops destined for Hankow. There is no British concession at Hankow, the reason is somewhat mysterious. No official explanation was offered and all sorts of surmises are in circulation.

PRECAUTIONARY MOVE

It is generally supposed that the move simply was precautionary, as it would be difficult to reach Hankow with the river at its present low level. It is assumed that if the troops are landed they will be quartered in British property. In a former concession for defensive and not aggressive purposes.

Nanking troops have successfully captured Hankow, but their advent seems calculated to lead to disorder. Already they have opened prison doors. Liberating 1,000 or more convicts. Strict martial law, however, is being enforced and it is hoped this will prevent serious developments.

A multitude of reports from foreign sources in Hankow reveal a continuing condition of uneasiness as the Nanking faction continues to establish firm control.

Dispatches from Canton reveal renewed outbreaks in the international warfare of radical Laborites attempting to undermine the military leaders of the present government. At a great reception for Chiang Kai-Shek he was asked to re-enter military life as a general and he replied evasively.

BARRAGE OF PIES ROUTS BANDITS

Clerk Goss Fells Comedians One Better By Hurling Bottled Hamm. To

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. (AP)—When Samuel Schaefer, delicatesse clerk, was held up by two armed men he went up the film comedians who lay down pie barrages one better and then some.

He started in with pie, but when his supply gave out he moved on to pate de foie gras pots, tinned sardines, casseroles and boiled ham. The robbers pointed pistols when they entered, but as Schaefer went into action they shouted: "Hey, don't do that," drooped to hands and knees and scrambled for the door.

Schaefer chased the men into the street, volleying away with an armful of imported comedies and assailing police, ran one of the pair down. He gave his name as Ralph Scott.

Scott was taken seat with much fanfare, saying his pardon, your hon-

Attorneys say that the warning did not necessarily constitute Remus' defense.

For the fourth time in the four days of the tedious period of examination of veniremen, Remus provided the fireworks which lifted the court session from dreary routine to the status of vivid drama.

COURT STORM BREAKS

GEORGE REMUS, 47, of years of age, re- turned to the witness stand yesterday for jury service as to his qualifications for jury service when the storm broke.

Heaving out in his great voice, Remus fired questions at Mr. Avery, which depicted for the full jury box his estimation of his position.

"The fact my life is in the balance we are in now is the best proof I can give you that I am fit to be a juror," Remus said in low and shrewd tones.

"No," was the reply.

"And the fact that I am an ex-bootlegger, an ex-convict and a disbarred lawyer, Remus began with his familiar quizzing and a tone of scorn in his voice, as he analyzed himself. "Is that going to influence you? Are you going to charge that against me?"

"No," came again from the venireman.

ULTIMATUM BY COURT

It was when Avery softly asked the aged venireman if he would not consider all circumstances surrounding the case that Taft leaped to his feet with an objection.

Heated exchanges between the two took place. The prosecutors demand that the jury be sent out and Remus' assertion that a suggestion for such a maneuver was "ridiculous."

Judge Shock got control of the situation and delivered his ultimatum to the defendant-counsel, the only one left in the courtroom, that the case be adjourned until the next day.

At the adjournment two women and nine men sat as tentative jurors, the same as at the opening of court.

"Then we began to fight. I guess we must have fought three hours or more with our fists, resting a bit at times when we were too much done up to go on."

"Then Siemon crawled into his shack, when I thought I had him licked, and came out with a knife and a bullet pistol. I grabbed an ax handle lying near and hit at him to knock away the knife. He dropped the knife and fell down. I was tuckered out with the fighting and all over blood, so I went toward my home to get washed up."

"Then I thought I better not leave Lenox out there in the sun, all beaten up and went back. He didn't notice me though, so I crawled inside. I looked at him and saw him lying dead on the floor.

"I didn't wait for anything else but came right in here to give myself up."

Coach Bill Bates's Lincoln Railsplitters, who discovered that they could win football games last week when they upset Franklin, 20 to 6, turned in another victory yesterday at Fulton Field, where they squelched the Jefferson Democrats, 13 to 6.

The game was nothing to get excited about and neither was the way in which the Railsplitters made both their touchdowns, but Lincoln had the better team and Lincoln won, so that's that.

Yesterday's trouncing wound up a perfect—perfectly awful—season for Jim Purcell's Democrats, who succeeded in losing all six of their games.

Lincoln's first touchdown was scored by Shaeffer. Railsplitter end who scooped up a pass from the Jefferson center and

Pomona Gridders Stage Final Workout for Tilt With Tigers Tomorrow

CLAREMONT, Nov. 18. (Exclusive)—Before a cheering mob of 500 students, Pomona's varsity football team went through a final workout tonight and turned in its uniforms until the time when it trots onto the green of Alumni Field against Occidental on Saturday. Pomona winds up its season against the Tigers Saturday and will win the Southern Conference championship again if victorious. U.C.L.A. will be sole proprietor of the title if Oxy

♦ only minor. Bishop is in the most precarious condition, having a bad knee which may put him on the shelf, as that ailment has plagued the football team.

Once again, the success or failure of Pomona on Saturday will probably depend on a bruised and battered little Sagehen line. It is generally conceded that the Sagehens had a slight edge over Oxy's, but the Tiger forwards look enough superior to Pomona's to offset that and it is only a question of how often the Pomona line can turn their backs to get losses and how often they can stop the charging Oxy backs.

The all-important master of reserves becomes increasingly important again during this game. Oxy has nine men available to Pomona and with exceptionally warm weather predicted for the day of the game, this may become a deciding factor. Likewise, both sides are primed to play their second game in less than a whole season and hence it is probable that more than one armored youth will be carried off the field feet first.

There is little or no confidence on the Pomona campus right now despite

ROCKNE PUTS FIGHTIN' IRISH THROUGH LIGHT SCRIMMAGE IN PREPARATION FOR DRAKE TILT

BOTH BEND (Ind.) Nov. 17.—With but two light practice sessions under their belts since their disastrous defeat by the Army today, Knute Rockne's Fighting Irish of Notre Dame left tonight for Des Moines, where they play Drake University Saturday.

It was a different team—or teams we should say—for Rockne has this team, each about as good as the other at his disposal this year, returned from New York five days ago.

The old Notre Dame snap was there as the boys ran through a light session this afternoon before entraining and it appeared as if Drake would be easy.

The Irish have had a tough schedule this year, but the Drake game figures to give them a bit of a let-down. Drake has already lost three games and it must be admitted that they encountered plenty of tough opposition. Last Saturday Drake tackled Minnesota, the team that beat Notre Dame and lost, 21 to 6. However, the fact that Drake scored on the Gophers indicates that they have something in the way of an offense.

Rockne was still explaining Notre Dame's defeat by the Army today.

"We met a mighty good team in Boston," said Rockne, "but we're going to meet another in Chicago next Saturday. Of course we'll have a little advantage over U.S.C. because the Trojans are going to a lot of traveling in the next few days and they're not going to get a whole lot of practice, but both teams will know they're playing a football game after it's over."

Barred gates defended the final Harvard Crimson workout of the season as the squad drilled for and forward passes. Joe Crosson, infected nose kept him from the practice and it appears that the star of the Harvard attack will not be present to open the game Saturday than the side lines.

Although Howard Jones, two of Yale's injured backs, went through signal drill Capt. Webster, crack gunner, failed to get into the workout. Webster's hip injury appeared aggravated by the two minutes he practiced yesterday.

RABBIT PUNCHES

FROM up North come reports that the smart boys figure Stanford is going to be cleaned by California Saturday because "Pop" Warner locked the gates at Palo Alto and won't let any site-line observers inside the stockade.

California undoubtedly played a fine game against Washington last week-end and probably deserved at least one of those touch-downs they missed by a speckle, but anybody who figures Santa Clara's surprising victory over

Stanford means anything in the game with the Bears is dizzy in the dome.

The undergrads at Berkeley are hoping for the best, but after seeing the Bears dumped on their own field, 21 to 0, last Saturday, Ford is as strong as the Trojans; they are not making any wild wagers on the result. Even "Red" Silver, our demon correspondent and one of the Bears' red-hot supporters, goes no farther than

COUGAR SQUAD PRIMED FOR TERRIFIC BATTLE

Northern Athletes Rarin' to Go Against Trojans, Who May be Taken by Surprise

BY BRAVEN DYER

Their claws sharpened, and with a lean and hungry look in their eyes, the Cougars of Washington State College are slated to reach Los Angeles this morning. Tomorrow afternoon the Pullman gridders battle Southern California's undefeated Trojans at the Coliseum in a game which looks as one of the greatest battles of the year.

That lean and hungry look appears on the Cougars' faces because they have been denied their usual banquets this season. With Trojan meat on the menu, the Cougars are anticipating a real feast to make up for the lean pickings in other games.

At the start of the year the Cougars thought they would dine all night at the Coliseum this afternoon.

"Butch" Meeker, the human dynamo, leads the Cougars this year and now that he has recovered from a sprained knee, he commanded a grid battalion. "Butch" has been plain poison to the Trojans in the past and inasmuch as tomorrow's game is the last of his college career, he won't be standing around waiting for the Trojans to shake hands with him.

VETERANS PERFORMING

Here the Cougars start line-up is in full battalions, all hands. There's something pathetic about a bunch of collegians in their final football game, and often the object of sympathy turns out to be the winner.

In this regard the Trojans have a real battle on their hands. Jones let up a bit during practice last night, going so far as to cease scrimmaging. This did not prevent him from giving his backs a terrific roasting as they called a line around on defense against forward passes. In George Williamson, rangy 180-pound back, the Spartans have great power. He's been tooting pipes all season long, and Oregon plays one week, Stanford the

TH TROJANS NOT POSSIBLE, SAYS YALE

LATERAL PASS IS ONLY HITCH

Committee Seems Justified for New Changes

Position of Goal Posts Had Effect on Kickers

Field Points Were Reduced to Minimum Amount

BY BRIAN BELL

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. (AP)—With the football hand practically played out, the rule committee seems justified in standing pat on the 1927 lateral pass.

With the exception of the lateral, however, most of the changes ordered last year by the committee have been given a thorough trial and apparently worked out well, on which.

The lateral pass has been little used, probably because it is an instant, if successfully operated, and the coaches have not had the time to drill the players in its possibility, if any.

Changes in the position of the goal posts, giving insurance for safety, and who muffed punts have had no great striking effect in the game.

Punts after touchdowns have also been given a try, since they were placed at the end of the safety zone instead of on the line, the extra ten yards being gained.

Thus, many of the kickers can punt under pressure.

South from Field, a dominant factor in 1926, also have been reduced to a minimum, most coaches preferring to gamble with a pass on fourth down when unable striking distance.

Play for the distant option. With the ball on the fifteen-yard line in the old days the kicker could go eight or ten yards and get a five-yard field goal.

Now he can get a five-yard field goal with a twenty-five-yard kick because there is an additional ten yards after the ball crosses the line, and that distance has been eliminated.

In 1926, a six-year after John and the two boys played together in 1923 and 1924, Harry was probably a better all-around player than John, but not such a great ball carrier. He was a deadly tackler and a finished defensive player. Max played on the freshman team at Chicago in the fall of 1926, and a year later the Thomases moved from Jameson to D. C. Riverdale, Cal.

Lloyd made Cliff Herd's freshman team at S.C.U. and in 1926 starred in the Trojan's great 20-0 victory over California. In the Stanford game he made a 46-yard run to touchdown. He has been used mostly as the ball and ten times in the last three games.

Protection for the buttingfingered who muffed their punts has speeded up the game. The sight of a muffed punt has been removed from the field, with everyone now able to establish contact with it, as practically disappeared.

It is in the knowledge that the muffed punt can happen that the safety men have been more careful in chance for a dash to a touch-down in the picture, the safety men become bold. Some have been daring. Bitten with the catchers, they have now learned that that has gone over the line for a touch-down and given them the ball at the twenty-yard line when they had an outside chance to run it in.

The bundle time limit of fifteen seconds and the "1-3-4" on the side has had little effect.

That is shifted before can it to when the ball is downed, so that it is possible to get a ten-second time for penalties for penalties is consistent with the observance of the rule has been remarkable.

The lateral pass will face a fight at the hands of the officials, who are on the ground that it is not the trouble, but the other innovations seem destined to remain a part of the code.

It is in the air of agitation for football changes. It may include a number of suggestions to eliminate rules, which have, in especially recent years, come to the notice of the public, both up, as well as generally. A committee has been put together to look at the all-too-frequent deadlocks.

Mrs. Steele Trims Opponent to Reach Finals

Exciting Clashes Feature Invitation Affair

BY BILL WISE
Mrs. Harry Pressler and Mrs. Mark Steele will meet at Hollywood this morning for the club invitational golf title. The San Gabriel celebrity defeated Miss Long, 2 up, last week, while Mrs. Steele was winning her way into the finals by the same score. And in the disputed expense of Mrs. George Burrell of the California Club, Miss de Long afforded Mrs. Pressler enough competition to please even the women's champion. Coronado High champion of her home Coronado Club, played the best game of her career at Hollywood yesterday.

Mrs. Pressler retaliated with an eighteen-hole tour that has been a credit to any major championship. Miss de Long enjoyed a slender 1-up lead at the sixth, but dropped the next two holes and Mrs. Pressler outlasted her in the final four holes, winning by one hole. The Coronado visitor made a great bid to square the match with a birdie 4 on the long thirteenth, but Mrs. Pressler avoided the tricky green with her second and can down beautiful putt for an eagle 3 to go 2 up.

The win was reminiscent to a fault. Mrs. Pressler and Miss de Long stroked faultless 72s, but Mrs. Pressler got 1 up. Miss de Long slipped through with a par 4 and the long seventeenth, but Mrs. Pressler snapped right back with a different par 4 on the eighteenth to win the best match of the week, 2 up.

Mrs. Mark Steele of Potrero, runner-up in the qualifying play, continued titleward yesterday with an exhibition that promises competition for Mrs. Pressler this morning. The

Mr. W. G. Cupps of Pasadena pulled off his first match out of the first yesterday when she defeated Mrs. A. E. D. Trabue, chairman of the women's auxiliary, 1 up. Mrs. D. A. Lewis squared a long-handled attack with Mrs. B. Green by defeating the brilliant golfer, 5 and 4.

All finals will be played this morning. Semifinals results yesterday were as follows:

HOLLYWOOD FLIGHT
Mrs. Harry Pressler defeated Miss Louise Trabue, 2 up.
Mrs. Mark Steele defeated Mrs. George Burrell, 3 up.

SECOND FLIGHT
Mrs. W. G. Cupps defeated Mrs. A. E. D. Trabue, 1 1/2 up.
Mrs. H. Hardy defeated Mrs. B. Green, 1 and 1/2.

THIRD FLIGHT
Mrs. D. A. Lewis defeated Mrs. R. J. Green, 5 and 4.
Mrs. D. A. Lewis defeated Mrs. L. L. Burroughs, 2 up.

U.C.L.A. learned how the easterners hit, however, and should never sleep again. Spaulding believes that the fracs with the Iowans will give the Bruins a touch of the caliber of football that they will run into against the Pacific Coast conference next fall.

The Bruins wound up their last Northern Conference game with a victory over Caltech last Saturday and are set to invade the Western Athletic this weekend for a set-to with the Wildcats. They will return Sunday and start training the following day for the intersectional clash.

U.C.L.A. will enter the Arizona games favored to play by Occidental early in the season, which gives the dopers something to think about.

Bill Spaulding may have to play his last two games minus the services of Elwin Peterson, giant tackle. Peterson's trick knee caved in a week ago, despite a special brace invented by Dr. Scott Finney, and as a result the senior may be out of the line-up forever.

BOSTON SQUASH STAR TRAINS FOR TOURNEY

Charlie Read, Harvard Club squash champion of Boston, the latest entry in the national senior A.A.U. squash championship, to be held at the Hollywood Athletic Club, starting next Monday, will work out at the city club this noon with Bob Howard, athlete director. Harold Wilkins, representing the Multnomah Club of Portland, also signed up with Howard last night. Read is expected to give the local squash fans a struggle for the national title, and, according to advance gossip, he is a brilliant player. He won the Harvard Club championship in August from a field of forty-five entries and his supremacy over the rest of the players can be ascertained from the fact that he never lost a set.

TRAUNG SEEKS TO MAKE FIGHT VENTURES SOUND

Traung was called upon Gov. Young to pay his respects, it being the first time he had met the executive. He did not discuss with Young the recent Dundee-Huckins Los Angeles fight.

Two ways are available, Traung believes, for making promoters responsible. One is through city office supervision by agents of special financial experts.

FRUIT GROWERS
DISCUSS LABOR

Sixtieth Convention Favors
Mexican Workers

Resolution Against Those Who Urge Quota

Speakers Present Two Sides
of Border Problem

STOCKTON, Nov. 17. (Exclusive) The sixtieth annual convention of California fruit growers and farmers, in its closing sessions tonight, adopted a resolution aimed at interests that advocate placing a quota on Mexican labor immigration into California. Adoption of the resolution came as a result of a motion on the part of San Joaquin Valley and Southern California delegates, who joined blonde.

G. Parker Jones of San Francisco led the fight for the adoption of the resolution, which, although somewhat modified from its original wording, apparently is satisfactory to those who sponsored it. Active also in support of the resolution were James C. and Charles McLean of Fullerton; Dallas Gray of Fresno and C. I. Sawday of Los Angeles. The fight against the resolution was led by Simon Lubin of Sacramento, chairman of the state executive committee of the California Development Association and former member of the Immigration Commission. Speakers from all parts of the State voiced opinions relative to Mexican labor.

GIVES MAN POWER

"Ninety per cent of the farm labor used in California is Mexican," said Mexican "Fresile" told the convention. "This Mexican labor problem is not one which we urge because it means cheap labor, but one that insures us man power."

Mr. Jones pointed out that the Mexican is restricted. "The Mexican often says he wants to be a citizen, but does California want a situation such as exists in many of the States east of California? Then there is the question of the fact that the Joaquin Valley needs 30,000 hands during the summer months. The problem of handling that many Filipinos would be almost prohibitive."

Mr. Jones added that a total of 1500 Filipinos immigrated for work in the San Joaquin Valley, only ninety remaining on their jobs.

"The Mexican is an alien and can be handled," he continued. "Some of the other workers are citizens, others are not, and should be deported. The Mexican is a liability to a certain extent, but for every dollar that we spend in taking care of him, the State gets back two through his aid with our crops. He has a holding quality that takes him south in the winter."

Frisile contended the farmers using Mexican labor recognize that the Mexican is a threat and Mexican problems are national problems, and admitted that many Mexicans are bootlegged across the border and that at present the facts of the Mexican situation are unknown. He decided however, that after a few days after the bars are put up and the inflow of Mexican labor is stopped, agricultural American will have a real problem.

Competition for labor will develop, labor rates will rise and farm production prices will not correspondingly.

WANT CHEAP LABOR

Simon Lubin, in arguing against Mexican labor, charged that farmers do not need or want man power. "They don't want man power; they want cheap labor," he declared.

Price concluded the farmers can no longer get white labor, but would accept it if they could. He advocated an organized distribution of Mexican laborers, as it comes over the border. Farmers, he added, recognized the responsibility of taking care of Mexican labor.

Knowlin set forth that the State provided well-kept houses for such labor, that considerable American labor is being done among the Mexicans and that generally both California farmers and the Mexican laborers are being benefited.

Following is the text of the resolution adopted:

"Resolved, that we recognize the tremendous importance to the State and nation of low farm labor rates, and that we shall continue to further increase the already high labor cost in farm production and that we urge a sympathetic attention to the needs of agriculture in this regard, and that we shall recommend such steps as will protect agriculture in this regard."

Another resolution approves of State standardization and certification marks to be extended to include the grading of fruits and vegetables for canning purposes.

The convention also went on record as endorsing "the broad principle of state and federal legislation for American-grown and manufactured products for the purpose of maintaining American standards of living at their present high level."

Secretary of Agriculture Jardine is calling for a national effort to prevent the entry of agricultural pests into the United States.

Members of the commission appointed by the Governor for the study of crime conditions in California met here today for a general discussion of the problem. The recent report of the National Crime Commission, which was presented to the members of the Los Angeles Bar Association were considered.

A tentative plan to codify methods of treatment of prisoners, located to furnish the rehabilitation work discussed. It was suggested that the study of crime psychology was only a beginning.

Those present at today's conference were Dr. Frank Polak, warden of San Quentin, chairman Justin Miller, Los Angeles; W. R. McKay, Hanford; W. H. Holland, Los Angeles; W. A. Beasley, San Francisco, and Chris E. Fox, Oakland, secretary.

RED PERIL SCORED BY D.A.R.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17. (Exclusive)—It was not the roasting of the British lion but the baying of the Russian wolfhound which concerned the Daughters of the American Revolution, the women's patriotic organization, assembled yesterday at the Hotel La Salle for its national defense meeting.

Harry Curran Wilbur, principal speaker of the meeting, took up the subject of the delivery of "Red speech against the 'red, pink and yellow' menaces. He denounced Senator Borah of Idaho and Representative Sabbath of Illinois for their agitation against Russia. He hit against Jane Addams and her friends for their "sugar-syrup" pacifism. He struck at the clergy for their "soft, thin-headed" policies. "They have no backbone," he said. "They have no backbone."

Adolf Broeseau, National President, declared that the D.A.R. is backing Mayor Thompson in his Don Quixote fight against the windmills of British propaganda.

Mrs. Alice Thompson, of Los Angeles, is backing Mayor Thompson in his Don Quixote fight against the windmills of British propaganda. Mrs. Thompson suggested that a more realistic and dangerous opposition than that aimed at by Mayor Thompson is at work in the country in the form of internationalism, in an organized effort to cripple the appropriated money for carrying on the prosecution of the National Defense Act.

There is a vagueness for depreciation now," she said. "Atheism is being sponsored by certain active agencies. Old ideals are ridiculed and ridicule is a most effective weapon on the young. We do not want Russia's new order here."

MRS. COOLIDGE NOT ON 'INSIDE'

President's Plans Can't Be Learned Through Her

Political Sharps Unable to Get "Low-down" on 1928

First Lady Acts Her Natural Self and Wins All

Washington, D.C., by the New York World
WASHINGTON. Nov. 17. (Exclusive)—Men may not be heroes to their valets and White House chambermaids to not talk much. Washington wonders, therefore, whether or not Presidents seem smart politicians to their wives.

While the political sharps have been wondering among themselves concerning Mr. Coolidge's 1928 intentions, Mrs. Coolidge has been trying to get the inside facts through scrutiny and cross-examination of Mrs. Coolidge.

The "city slickers" have set about to see if Coolidge is being a swindler by studying Mrs. Coolidge's discomfiture today in the best story in the national capital. She speaks freely and says what she thinks, but she admires the men over whom she presides. Her ministers are just as honest as the "low-down" as are the old guard leaders who have been putting trick questions to the President.

SHE DOESN'T KNOW

The answer Washington wants from Mrs. Coolidge is the same today as it was when she came to the White House—she doesn't know. As she was when a tragic destiny lifted her in the middle of an August night from a farm house vacation in Vermont to a first ladyship under trial trying circumstances.

Mrs. Coolidge is, as always, just her natural self.

She tells her intimates that she hasn't the slightest possible notion about her husband's political future. In fact, the President has any card up his sleeve. She sees, he has not tipped her off. She sees no novelty in that. She says she never tells her about such things until after they have come true. She has learned to take things as they come.

Mrs. COOLIDGE MAY BE HOME

Speculating that the President had said he had no plans for 1928 except to "whittle a while," Mrs. Coolidge guessed that Plymouth, Vt., might be her destination on leaving the White House. Her friends said White thinks they would go back to the 8224-foot mountain house in Northampton, Mass.

There had been rumors that Mrs. Coolidge had been becoming impatient and let her name be listed on the door of some large law office in Boston or New York. Mrs. Coolidge has one of those exceptional dispositions which induces her to forgive gossips and be generous. For what she does, the future may never tell.

The President's wife could not overcome her nature, even if she were foolish enough to try. Official Washington was dimmed by the air of the exercises incident to the President's presentation of the Hubbard Medal to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh here on Monday night.

THE WHISPER

Mrs. Coolidge and Mrs. Lindbergh, the "Eagles' mother, have been great friends from the moment of their first meeting. While Dr. Oliver S. Green, president of the National Geographic Society, was introducing the President, Mrs. Coolidge and Mrs. Lindbergh engaged in an animated though whispered conversation. They had not seen each other since Dr. Green had accompanied President Coolidge opened his address.

Was Mrs. Coolidge willing to make the end of that exchange known to the demands of 6000 of Washington's best-known dress suits? She was not! She would not be disrespectful by continuing the conversation. She did manage to give the names of the President and that of Col. Lindbergh and Mrs. Lindbergh passed scribbled notes back and forth. At times they giggled like a couple of schoolgirls. It was Mrs. Coolidge who brought some winning new plaudits from a Washington which has been toasting her since it was privileged to know her.

Asserted Rum
Baron Freed by Federal Jury

SEATTLE. Nov. 17. (AP)—Roy Olmsted, charged by prohibition officers with being the "rum baron" of the Pacific Northwest, was sentenced to a jury in Federal Court here today on a smuggling indictment which was based on his asserted liquor operations.

Olmsted was specifically charged with smuggling $6000 of liquor into the United States illegally, evading customs laws.

He contended that the liquor in question was the property of Alfred M. Robelot, an attorney, and that he was working as an undercover agent of the prohibition forces at the time. Olmsted and others were arrested at Woodinville Beach, Thanksgiving Day, 1926.

He is appealing to the United States Supreme Court on one conviction of liquor conspiracy and two conspiracy indictments hanging over him. Olmsted failed to appear for trial when it was to begin yesterday. Other defendants were convicted in the second Olmsted case.

Fear Felt for British Flyers

LONDON. Nov. 17. (AP)—Much anxiety was felt this afternoon for the safety of Capt. H. H. McIntosh and Bert Hinkler, two aviators on their flight to Australia. No word has been heard from the men since their start on Tuesday at 1:10 p.m.

It was estimated that their fuel supply would be exhausted by 11:30 a.m. this morning. Londoners fear it is therefore considered certain they have come down somewhere.

Capt. A. J. Barnes, one of the backers of the flight, says he has come to the conclusion that the fears expressed they might have landed at some forsaken spot such as the Afghanistan wilds in the Himalayan region, escape from which would likely prove extremely difficult.

SOUTH BLODGETT (III)—John J. Beyer, "the dry agent," has been held in the grand jury following while investigating in the Petrolia oil fields. A state's attorney who owned a car used in the conviction of the Beyer gang supplied, said the grand jury, that his passenger, William Petroff, was trying to break into the place of business where he bought from John J. Beyer.

Following the shooting, Petroff took a bullet in the abdomen floor. He died.

Beyer reported the police and Petroff to the hospital where he died.

WAVE-LENGTH PLANS PRAISED
Messages to International Radio Meet Pleased Double Advantage Sighted in Allocation
Needs of Broadcasters and Amateurs Met

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. (AP)—The allocation of wave lengths to the various radio services worked out by the International Radio Conference will serve the present party a place in the history of wireless transmission, the opinion of many delegations. They agree that the plan evolved has the double advantage of rigidly limiting long-wave services to separate frequency bands—thus avoiding the interference which had resulted from their simultaneous use for the last year—and of subjecting the short waves to a closer control, in which their uses are more clearly defined. Such a policy is believed to be of great value inasmuch as short waves still is in its experimental stage, while that of long waves is understood well.

For the Care of the Hands

HANDS may be made immaculately soft and white, smooth and lovely, if one takes ordinary precaution and uses such aids as these:

Alabastrine, Robinsons' Benzoin of Honey and Almonds, Pate Agnel and Sullivan's Quince Lotion.

For the Nails

BEAUTIFUL Nails are those which are healthy and well cared for, reflecting the daintiness of one's person. Their perfection lies in daily care and in these preparations:

Peggy Sage Rose Petal Enamel and other Peggy Sage products and Twentieth Century Toning Cream.

Facial Preparations

PROLONGED scientific research has given to the modern woman creams and lotions which she may use with confidence in their purity and efficacy. Cleansing Creams from Elizabeth Arden, Marie Earle, Leigh, and Ambrosia Cleansing Tonic are recommended.

Amandine and Dermatone are used for the removal of blackheads. La Velouty to be used instead of powder, does not rub off or soil the clothing. Lait Candes is effective for preventing freckles and tan.

Doraldina's Allura

ALLURA is a make-up cream which imparts a natural-looking, soft finish to the skin which is very flattering. It is mildly antiseptic, helping to remove blemishes as well as to cover them, and serves as a lasting and becoming powder foundation.

For evening use it is particularly satisfactory.

Cleansing Tissues

CLEANSING Tissues imported by J. W. Robinson Co. from Japan are soft and absorbent, providing a sanitary and easy means of removing cold cream and other make-up from the skin. They may be had in small and large packages.

Fluide d'Or for Blondes

B LONDE Hair takes on new lustre and life and retains its lovely color with this "Fluid of Gold" from France.

It is not injurious to the hair and is not a shampoo, but makes the hair doubly beautiful and light.

Hair-A-Gain Shampoo

A STIMULATING treatment for the hair and scalp and one which corrects practically every hair ailment, is Hair-A-Gain.

It thoroughly cleanses the scalp, awakens circulation and restores the natural color and lustre to the hair. It is also beneficial in preventing dandruff and falling hair. This preparation consists of a paste which penetrates to the roots of the hair and a shampoo with which the paste is removed.

From Belgium Linen Luncheon Sets Bride Loses Suit

WILMINGTON (Calif.) Nov. 17. (AP)—Suit was filed by Mrs. Nellie Moore, 24-year-old bride, against her husband, John Ray, 24-year-old "liquor man," who had held without bail the grand jury following the death of Wm. Petroff, whom he shot during a shooting match at the Rossmoor mine, here, but a coroner's inquest agent, who earned a commission for the coroner, obtained evidence which showed that Petroff purchased the gun when he had fallen ill, and that he had been struck by a bullet from Beyer's hand when he was shot.

After the shooting, Beyer handed the gun to police and took him to police station, where he was wounded. Petroff, the wounded, was on his way to hospital when he reported the shooting to the police, and Petroff was taken to the hospital.

Angeles and San Francisco, the Western Union Telegraph Company is now in the process of completing a network of services connecting the Pacific Coast to the rest of the country, according to a statement today by W. H. Williams, vice-president of the company.

Williams said San Francisco and Los Angeles will place the ticker in operation on completion of the system, which will connect the two cities with the eastern exchange in New York.

Mortgage Head
Denies Rumor;
Board to Decide

Morgan Adams, president of the Mortgage Guarantees Company, yesterday denied any knowledge of the influences behind the rise of the company's stock on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. The business has materially improved this year, he said, but whether any part of the improvement was due to the influence of the company's officers was not known.

Net operating income of Class I railroads for the first nine months of this year, it was reported, was $89,000,000 below the same period of 1926. Freight traffic showed a decline of 10 per cent, and passenger traffic reached the lowest volume since 1916.

Increased wages added $60,000,000 to the 1927 payroll, the report stated, and while taxes were slightly lower, the result was a smaller loss than the decline in revenue and the ratio of taxes to revenue now is at the highest point ever recorded.

The volume of business this year will probably double the record of last year, Mr. Adams said. Net earnings are expected to show a gain of about 2 per cent.

Railroads Look for Decrease
in Net Earnings

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. (P)—Despite the attainment of the greatest operating efficiency on record, railroads expect a decrease of earnings this year in comparison with 1926, it was reported today at the annual meeting of the American Railway Association.

Inability of the roads to reduce expenses in the same ratio as the increasing revenue of the railroads and the Bureau of Railway Economics for the expected decrease. Rising wages and falling volume of both freight and passenger traffic were cited as factors which maintained
the cost of doing business.

Powell Chosen Rail Line Head

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. (P)—L. R.
Powell, Jr., 43 years of age, vice-president and controller of Seaboard Air Line Railway, today was elected president of the company to succeed
the late S. Davies Warfield. Robert L. Nutt, vice-president and treasurer, was elected chairman of the board. Both men were former railroad clerks.

Powell is a Virginian by birth and became one of the young presidents of the railroads in the country. Entering the employ of Seaboard in 1903 as a clerk in the office of the auditor of passenger accounts he worked his way through the company's offices and in 1916 became associated with Warfield in the management of the road's corporate affairs. In the last few years he had been associated closely with Warfield in expansion and development of the railway system and its territory.

Sweetheart of "Lone Wolf" Takes Poison

QUESTIONED ON BANK ROBBERY

Recover Quickly After First Aid at Hospital

Mrs. Topping Relates Bandit Promised Her Car

Name Betrayed to Police by Delirious Outlaw

While J. W. Walton, the lone wolf bandit, lay in the General Hospital fighting a losing battle for his life after being shot in a gun battle with detectives Wednesday night, Eloise Clark Topping, his adored sweetheart, stepped because Walton had mentioned her name on the opening table, was being questioned in the Georgia-street jail, where she is held on a charge of suspicion of robbery, in an effort to connect her with the bandit's crimes.

Mrs. Topping, who is the estranged wife of George Topping, former Los Angeles real estate operator, was sought on suspicion of being a witness for the defense. She was arrested in her apartment at 1316 South Bonnie Brae street, late yesterday afternoon by Detective Captain Calill and Detective Lieutenant Pruitt. When Mrs. Topping, a MacKenzie, who trapped Walton the day before,

SWALLOWS POISON

As the detective said, Mrs. Topping had swallowed a bottle of poison in an effort to end her life. She was taken to the Georger-street Hospital, where she recovered rapidly after being given first aid.

Walton planned to spend the money which he had obtained in a hold-up of a branch of the California Bank in the morning and remained in his room all day. Then he told detectives they had picked out his car just a few hours before he was shot, he said, and he was to have returned in the evening to take her out to dinner, after which they were going to get the car.

A picture of Walton's 4-year-old son was found in Mrs. Topping's apartment. Walton has a wife living in San Fran. The Walton is said to have ordered a box of liquor sent to Mrs. Topping's apartment.

DETECTIVES PRAISED

Police as yet have been unable to link him directly with any crime.

Chief Police Surgeon Gooderich reported last night that Walton had only a slight chance for recovery.

Hughes, the San Fran. detective who trapped Walton was forthcoming from Chief of Police Davis yesterday.

Currency and silver amounting to $1,000,000, which was taken in the bank hold-up, was returned to the bank yesterday by the detective.

If Walton recovers, Dep. Dist. Atty. Zimmerman said, he will face a complaint charging him with robbery.

POWER PLANT SUFF CONCLUSION DELAYED

Conclusion of the Southern California Edison Company's plan for a permanent injunction against the Power and Light Bureau to prevent the waste of taxpayers' money by erecting a $3,000,000 steam "standby" plant at the harbor, which was to have been ready today, went over until next week when arguments for the defense petitioned Superior Judge Tappan, who conducted the trial for more time to consider arguments because of other legal hearings.

The court sat next Tuesday for the continuation of the arguments. Attorney Herbert Gonda, for the defendant, will conclude his arguments in the morning and Attorney Robert M. Scott, for the plaintiff, will begin in the afternoon.

CANADIANS DANCE TONIGHT

In honor of the visitors from the Dominion, the affiliated Canadian societies of Los Angeles and San Fran. will give a joint dance and social reunion at the old State Societies ballroom, 1137 South Hope street, this evening. The committee has arranged a program.

TRAFFIC LEAGUE TO GATHER

Officials From All Over State to Discuss Problems; Banquet Scheduled This Evening

More than 125 officials from Southern and Northern California cities are in Los Angeles for the second annual convention of the Municipal Traffic League of California, which will be opened this morning at 10 o'clock at the Alexandria.

After address of welcome by Mayor Cryer and D. P. McCarty, president of the Chamber of Commerce, delegates will engage in informal discussion of traffic matters.

Instead of having a set program of speeches, Clarence R. Sineson, secretary of the Traffic Commission, who is chairman of the convention committee, has invited a number of discussers, to be led by various members of the league.

AIM OF LEAGUE

One of the chief aims of the league, according to Supervisor Charles F. Tost of San Francisco, president of the organization, is the establishment of uniform traffic regulations throughout the state.

"We hope to get everyone of the 28 incorporated cities of the State to adopt uniform traffic laws," said Mr. Tost last night. "At the present time, however, the state has not adopted the same regulations and motorists are finding travel in these cities is far easier than formerly. There is no good reason why our cities cannot all adopt uniform traffic laws."

In addition to the uniform traffic laws, the league will take under consideration traffic violations, automatic signal control, boulevard stops, heavy trucking, one-way streets.

Council Orders Ordinance for Special Election in San Fernando Area

The City Attorney was directed by the Council yesterday to proceed with the drawing of the necessary ordinance to call an election to vote bonds and create a park district in the San Fernando Valley near Resco. There are no protests called when the master came before the Council.

The hearing of protests against the improvement of Lexington avenue between Seward street and Cypress avenue was postponed to January 24 because of the bad weather.

The Council confirmed the assessment of the new park district between Woodman and Haslett avenues and between Cimarron street and Hillside boulevard.

It also confirmed the assessments for the continuing improvement of Hooper avenue between Washington and Thirty-sixth streets.

Grocer Robbed by Two Bandits

T. Tanaka, grocer with a store at 1802 West Fleo street, Sawtelle, reports to police that he had been robbed of $60 and his trademark license last night by two Mexican bandits. One of the men entered the place, the owner said, while the other remained in their car outside.

The man who came in made a small purchase and then produced a pistol and demanded the contents of the cash register. Receiving this, he noticed that the grocer was alone, hung a frame over the register, and took that, too. The grocer is at the County Morgue.

CHEST ORDERED TO GO OVER TOP

Meserve Says Reputation of City at Stake

Almost $500,000 Yet Must be Subscribed

Hollywood Now 40 Per Cent Behind Its Quota

New subscriptions to the Los Angeles Community Chest as announced at campaign headquarters, 911 South Grand avenue, amounted to $87,398 yesterday noon, bringing the total in hand to $237,816. This is 28.10 per cent of the minimum $275,000 budget and leaves $46,184 yet to be obtained. The number of subscribers yesterday totaled 10,240.

"We are going on with this appeal," said Edwin A. Meserve, campaign manager, last night, commenting on the slowness of recent subscriptions. "There will be no let-up. Los Angeles' reputation is at stake. Our individual citizens try to be careful of their private reputations, but the city in which they live certainly does not care. Does it please them if other places point to us as a city without a heart?"

SOME NOT REPORTED

Although the figures showed almost $600,000 yet to be collected, several points of the community campaign have not yet been reported to headquarters. Hollywood, with a quota of $800,000, so far has only $210,000, or 26 per cent of its quota, but is expected to make additional reports within the next few days. Beverly Hills yesterday almost had its quota.

The largest single contribution announced yesterday was $60,000 by the business department of the city Board of Education. With no quota assigned, the board has been headed by the leadership of William E. Record, business manager of the board, though doubled its last year's contribution of $30,000.

The campaign was co-ordinated in part by that of the chamber of commerce.

Van De Mark and Mitchell got up and Van De Mark went in on their own account and with a rifle. He raised the gun and fired two or three times. Mitchell went through the kitchen door and that was the last we saw of him."

The latest single contribution was $100 by the city Board of Education.

The witness said that later they went out into the yard to search for Mitchell, but not being able to find him they assumed he had gone home and the party broke up.

FOUND NEXT DAY

The business department's contribution brought the total from the public schools division, of which Mrs. M. D. Disney, City Superintendent of Schools, is in charge, to 20 per cent of its quota, or $160,000. The presentation of every unit in the school system has been shown, Mrs. Disney said.

If subscriptions are not reported in large amounts than during the last four days, three weeks or longer will be required to raise the Chest's budget.

With Chesterfield cigarettes, W. H. Thompson, manager of the room, will be among the speakers at the noon report meeting today at campaign headquarters.

GUEST RELATED FATAL SHOOTING

Van De Mark Accused by Mrs. Proctor

Testimony Taken in Slaying of Inglewood Man

State Expected to Close Prosecution Today

Describing in dramatic fashion the incidents surrounding the shooting of H. G. Mitchell, Inglewood used-car dealer, Mrs. Nellie Proctor yesterday appeared in Judge Agger's court as the star witness for the State in the prosecution of Arthur H. Van De Mark on a charge of murder growing out of Mitchell's death.

Van De Mark, on a charge of murder, is accused of having shot Mitchell during an alteration which followed an asserted drinking party at Van De Mark's home last September.

Mrs. Proctor, 42, widow of the bandit, Charlie Proctor, was a guest at Van De Mark's house, was called to the stand following the impaneling of a jury of six women and six men who will determine Van De Mark's fate.

QUARREL DEVELOPS

While everyone was apparently in good spirits Van De Mark and Mitchell became involved in a quarrel, according to the witness.

"I was sitting on the kitchen counter," she said. "I heard them how it started, but my husband tried to stop them. I screamed when another woman threatened to hit him with a piece of iron, and my husband got up and took hold of the woman."

"Then Van De Mark and Mitchell got up and Van De Mark went in on his own account and with a rifle. He raised the gun and fired two or three times. Mitchell went through the kitchen door and that was the last we saw of him."

The latest single contribution was co-ordinated in part by that of the chamber of commerce.

Van De Mark is said to have had a rifle.

He lay on Clark Clark's desk yesterday, a conspicuous exhibit for the State.

When Mrs. Proctor, a day earlier, was taken to the county jail, the witness said that when she was taken to the jail she was given a day before the trial.

The witness said that later they went out into the yard to search for Mitchell, but not being able to find him they assumed he had gone home and the party broke up.

it is possible to fly upside down for a number of miles, but nobody seems to care much about doing it. Yet it might be useful as a political stunt.NEEDS OF HUMANITY

ters that "We are in business for your kodak films must have a funny idea of what is ailing us.HARD TO EXPLAIN

H The trim and equipment of a modern kitchen are so shiny and attractive that they should appeal to the most hardened art lover. Yet there are still artistic wives who find more beauty in a cigarette or a Chinese dog than in a spotless kitchen sink.THE KISS CURE
T An old English book declares that kissing a girl will usually cure the most stubborn headache. It sounds plausible. It is at least worth trying. Some of these old-fashioned remedies have never been executed. It has often been recommended for headache.MAN OF THE HOUR
M Herbert Hoover is to look after flood relief in New England. He took command of the situation when the Mississippi was raging. Neither hell nor high water can impair his capacity—in fact, they seem to bring it out. Any time the waters go out of bounds the impulse of the citizens will be to send a call for Herbert Hoover.CANT CONCENTRATE A A famous foreign opera singer refuses to bob her locks. Not because she has any objection of her own but she was warned by a Vienna scientist that women who closely shear their domes gradually lose their powers of concentration. What happens when a girl forfeits her concentration? Does she forget her house number? If our bobbed maids and matrons fail to concentrate what will become of the rest of us? Will it mean a larger freedom or a more complicated servitude?AUSTRALIAN FLYERS
A Australia is becoming a country of plane sailing. The distances are vast and transportation scant. The railroads cannot cover its magnificent expanses and paved highways are too expensive for the citizens.
That is why interest in aviation is growing so fast. Many landing fields are being established, but the country is of such character that the perils of a forced landing are minimized. In the very nature of things aviation should make remarkable progress in Australia.HOME, SWEET HOME
H Citizens of Easthampton, L. I., have voted to tax themselves $50,000 to preserve the childhood home of John Howard Payne and maintain it as a little museum of American antiquities. Of course it will be called Home Sweet Home, as Payne is now only remembered as the author of the simple but immortal song of that name. The words and music were a fragment of the opera, "The Maid of Milan," which appeared in 1823. The opera was quickly forotten. The song goes on forever.THE POOR FISH
I There are now said to be nearly 2000 members of the Alimony Payers' Protective League. It may as well be admitted at the start that the big idea with the league is to get away from alimony payments—although that is not specifically announced as its purpose. There is, however, a declared war against female gold-diggers and against dames who are garnering booty from two men at the same time. The members feel that the law and the courts might safely be more considerate of their condition.COOLIDGE LOOKS AHEAD
C Perhaps the most significant point made by President Coolidge in his speech last night before the Union League in Philadelphie was that the United States has come to a turning point in its internal relations. The problems that face the nation now, he said in effect, are problems of construction, rather than reconstruction. The post-war work is done, or so nearly done that its end is in sight, and we are no longer to look backward but forward.Food control, development of waterways, development of the Navy, development of a merchant marine, development of airways are listed by the President as the pressing matters for consideration now and in the next few years; not one of them, it will be noted, in any way connected with the war period. The Congress that meets next month will be the first in a decade not to have the war and results of the war as the principal subject for discussion and legislation.The war legacy remaining is a public debt of $18,000,000,000, a weakness in our fiscal structure which the President said must be removed. But this, too, is a severe problem, so far as a need for a method of dealing with it is concerned. The nation has only to continue hacking away at it, just as Secretary Mellon has been doing for the past six and three-quarter years, until it disappears.No other nation involved in the war has been able to forget it so soon, as President Coolidge might have reminded his hearers, but did not. That the nation is prepared, in a material sense, for this construction era
he did point out, and pointed out the reason also—a rigid government economy which has made possible the rapid paying off of debts at the same time with slashing taxes.Next to Mississippi flood control, the President placed the problem of the Colorado, a forecast that he will urge Congressional action on this great need of the Southwest in his annual message. Under the heading of foreign relations, the President urged promotion of peace with all nations and cultivating particularly the friendship of Latin America.In his recital of accomplishments, the President merely stated what everybody knows. An outstanding passage of his speech was that in which he gave reasons for his belief that opposition to government ownership, and maintenance of a protective tariff, are the two principal bases for American prosperity and progress. The words may serve as a warning to the theorists and fascists. In upholding the superior efficacy of private enterprise he said:We have sought to establish a system under which the people control the government, and not the government the people.
Political freedom becomes but a shadow.It has, therefore, been our wish that the people of the country should own and control all gainful occupations not directly connected with the government service. When the government once enters a business it must occupy the end of it. No one can compete with it.

The result is a paralyzing monopoly.

This is the very antithesis of Communism, and it has raised the general warfare of the people to a position beyond even the promises of the extremists.These are ringing words, well spoken, and most appropriately so before the pioneer of the Union Leagues, an organization formed to preserve the Union in the darkest days of Civil War, and which is still a nucleus for patriotic effort. They will add to the general regret that President Coolidge has chosen not to be a candidate in 1928, for his Philadelphia speech constitutes a platform and declaration of principles on which any man might be eager to face the country with confidence of success.VOTING MACHINESAdoption of voting machines for Los Angeles county elections is again being considered seriously by the Board of Supervisors, and rightly. Anything which promises relief from the long delay in counting votes now characteristic of California is worth talking about. Voting machines do have disadvantages, but when it comes to the count, both for accuracy and speed they are so far ahead of paper ballots that there is no comparison.There is also the question of money saving. The County Bureau of Efficiency estimated that the election of 1926, with machines in use, could have been conducted for $106,000, whereas it actually cost $207,
047. The saving would be made by consolidation of precincts, elimination of election officials, elimination of ballot printing, and saving in tabulation of the returns.There remains the question of how the voters would take to the mechanical devices, which can only be ascertained by trial.
The experience of many cities and communities, however, is available, and it may be said that no place that has given them a fair trial has returned to the paper ballot. New York experience, to be sure, is not exactly applicable to California conditions, for New York is blessed with a relatively short ballot. California cursed with an inordinately long one. New York not only has a smaller number of elective officers, but its citizens are seldom called upon to pass on more than half a dozen propositions at any one election. The formidable array of lever buttons and pointers that would be necessary here might prove confusing, though it should be no more so than the terrific expanse of the paper ballot that now confronts the voter.San Francisco experience seems to be that the two minutes allowed by law for each machine vote is not enough; New York finds one minute ample. In the election of 1926 there were seventy-two propositions on the San Francisco ballot, while Los Angeles had ninety-six. It might be necessary to allow five minutes or more to a voter here in order to prevent him from being hurried unduly. The law allows ten minutes' time for the marking of a paper ballot, and often voters find that the time is not too long. Opinions in San Francisco seem to differ as to whether the machines save time for the voter, though the Register of Voters says they do.HIGH AND NARROW MINDSCotton Mather, 1663-1728, is still rated by American scholars, one of the most highly educated if, indeed, not the most learned, person in American history. His mind was encyclopedic. His brain was a great storehouse, well ordered and capable of marvellous concentration and correct thought. But if Cotton Mather came back to earth today he would have to limit his conversation to philosophy and theology and even in these subjects he would lag a little.President Pease of Amherst remarked in his inaugural address that now and then we wake up enough to discover that we cannot converse on intellectual subjects, because no two of us understand a sufficient number of the same things to start from common premises." The American mind is specialized now and conversations between well-educated persons are usually one-sided unless the topic be the weather, the current sporting event, or perhaps the latest scandal.Theodore Roosevelt probably was the modern age's closest approximation to the character of Cotton Mather in relation to his time. The Oyster Bay dinner table of the dynamic personality was always set for notables—eminent and learned men from with more danger of fraud.There can be no doubt, however, that they have money and save time in the count, and both savings are sufficiently important to justify experiment.An Impetus

TODAY, refinement has placed a taboo on the old-fashioned bathroom of yesterday. Bathrooms for a modern home are now being designed with the same care and artistic taste that is demanded in the furnishing of the other rooms.

A RRANGEMENT and design of fixtures are sought to add beauty to utility, and color decorations are used to convert the cold and unattractive to warmth and cheerfulness. Architectural consistency is desired in all types of homes.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY
One of the loveliest affairs of the week was the dinner party with which Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Curtis Torrance entertained Wednesday evening at their home, Los Palmas and Fourth streets, the occasion honoring Mrs. Torrance's grandfather, Thomas Blyth, who celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday anniversary.

Four generations were present, including Mrs. Torrance's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Jack Keith, and the lovely little daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Torrance, who came seven weeks ago, but has not been named as yet.

Mrs. Torrance, formerly Miss Katherine Keith, comes with her parents from Wyoming several years ago to make their home in Los Angeles.

Mr. Blyth was one of the pioneers of Wyoming where he still has extensive holdings, coming to this country from Scotland many years ago.

Mr. Blyth has two sons and two daughters, living in Los Angeles with their families. Mr. and Mrs. George P. Blyth, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Blyth, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Peter Thompson, and Dr. and Mrs. Jack Keith.

The Blyth-Keith home is in Wilshire Boulevard. Mr. Blyth is an enthusiastic golfer and with Mrs.

Keith plays golf every week regularly at the Los Angeles Country Club where he is a member.

Luncheon Party

Mrs. Arthur E. Lane of Chicago and her attractive daughter, Miss Marjorie E. Lane, are enjoying an indefinite visit in Southern California and while in Los Angeles are guests at the Biltmore.

Mrs. Lane is planning a luncheon of ten covers Tuesday afternoon in honor of Dr. Margaret Sprague Carbarnes, the young medical student of the Three Arts Club, who at 1 o'clock Dr. Carbarnes will give the third of her series of talks on the drama of today, the subject being "The Spread Eagle."

Mrs. Lane and Dr. Carbarnes are old friends, the former having been a student at Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill., when Dr. Carbarnes' mother, Mrs. Henry A. Carbarnes, was a student at the same university, a chair she held for many years.

Bridge Luncheon

A delightful affair of the week was the luncheon of the Los Angeles Bridge Club, which Mrs. Alfred Ginzow entertained yesterday afternoon at the Chapman Park Hotel her guests including Mrs. H. F. Hubbard, Mrs. Freda C. Hubbard, Mrs. Bernard Cavanaugh and Mrs. J. M. Hart.

The California Bridge Club is planning an opening dinner for its members and their immediate families

Keeping that Schoolgirl Complexion

By VILMA BANKY

Beware of using any but true complexion soap on face

THE modern way to beauty starts with skin cleanliness; with never letting powder, rouge or make-up remain on your skin over night. That means careful washing with soap and water regularly.

But be sure you use only a true complexion soap for this purpose. E: sure it is a beauty soap.

Before Palmolive Soap was popular women were told "use no soap on your face." Soaps then represented soaps of olive and palm oil; they're not the same. They are but crude imitations. The Palmolive-Pet Co., Chicago, U.S.A.

Palmolive is the most widely urged soap in the world today for complexion use. In Paris it is supplanting domestic soaps.

For true skin beauty, get Palmolive today. Cleanse the skin with its balmy olive and palm lather regularly, and particularly at bedtime every night.

Do that for one week. Note how much better your skin. Costs but 10¢ a cake. Take care that you get the genuine Palmolive. Great soaps represented soaps of olive and palm oil; they're not the same. They are but crude imitations. The Palmolive-Pet Co., Chicago, U.S.A.

AVIATOR WINS COURT APPEALManslaughter Conviction of Crossan Reversed*Testimony on Flying Habits Held Inadmissible*Two Girls Killed in Landing of Plane at Venice

The conviction of Carroll B. Crossan, aviator, on charges of manslaughter growing out of the death of two little girls who were struck by his airplane, will be made a hearing on the bench at Venice several months ago, was reversed yesterday by the Appellate Court.

ONE ARGUMENT UPHELD

The Court of Appeal held in its written decision that the trial court committed error in admitting testimony to the effect that Crossan was in the habit of flying his plane so low over the beach and highway that it endangered the lives of bathers and motorists. This was the only basis for the decision by which Crossan won the right to a new trial. All of the other arguments for reversal were overruled.

Justice Shaw, who wrote the opinion, held that if there had been no type of evidence, and no direct evidence had been wholly circumstantial, the testimony about Crossan's habits of flying would have been admissible. But, inasmuch as this was the sole argument tested, it could not possibly be considered by the court or jury under the rules laid down by the Supreme Court and the reviewing judges, according to Justice George J. Conroy and Houser concurred in this ruling.

FORCED TO LAND

Madeline Jeanette Kupper and Lillian A. Norrington were the girls who died as the result of the accident.

Crossan's defense at the trial was that his motor stopped while he was flying at an altitude of 1000 feet and he was forced to land. He contended that he could not possibly glide back to his field and was forced to land on the beach.

In view, according to the theory of the defense, he picked a spot where he thought no one was bathing and tried to land in the water, but the wind threw the plane back on the beach and caused it to strike the girls.

Three Injured in Auto Crash

Harry Hunt, 33 years of age, of 335 West One Hundred and Eighteenth street, received a possible fractured skull and his two women companions suffered broken noses and arms when his car crashed into the curb on San Pedro Drive near One Hundred and Ninth street last night and turned over three times.

According to Detectives Winfield and Clegg, members of the police street division, who investigated the accident, Hunt became blinded by the headlights of another machine.

In the car with Hunt were his mother, Lea, widow, 18, of 446 East Eighty-fourth Place, and her aunt, Mrs. Lena Reinhardt, 38, of the same address. All three were treated at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where it is said Hunt may die.

GIRL RUNNING FOR CAR HIT BY AUTO

When running to board a street car, Evelyn Cummings, 22 years of age, of 3700 La Salle avenue, was hit by an automobile driven by Miss S. Green on 1127 Ridgeley Drive at the intersection of Pico street and West Boulevard and seriously injured. She was treated at the Georgia-street hospital by Dr. George Seeger, where it was found she was suffering from concussion of the brain and injuries to the body. Her condition is grave.

RADIO ACTIVITIES*From Broadcasting Stations to Receiving SetsRADIO REPORT MADE PUBLIC*Bulletin Issued by Bureau of Commerce Department*Newcomers Will Be Heard Over Station KHJ*Game to Be Broadcast From Coliseum Tomorrow

By DR. RALPH L. POWER
Today the first report of the radio division of the Department of Commerce since it became a separate entity by separation from the Bureau of Navigation on February 26 is issued.

The new radio division came into being on the establishment of the Federal Radio Commission with W. D. Terrell as executive chief.

For the fiscal year amateur transmissions increased from 14,863 to 16,923 and these operate on wave lengths ranging from eighty meters and below.

Radio test cars have been placed in the field to test the strength of transmitting stations at distant points, operating on wave lengths between 50 and 900 meters, and to check frequencies of stations operating between 50 and 1250 meters.

At the close of the fiscal year 2002 American ships were equipped with radio equipment as compared with 1000 the previous year. The year's total inspections for ship radios was 9230.

NEWCOMERS HEARD

KHJ's night broadcast programs continue to bring new talent to the Los Lee station. Last night's newcomers to the studio included Charlie Diamond and his Hawaiian band. Among the remaining soloists included Melville Avery, bartone.

Harry Chasoff's dance orchestra gave the daily music program, featuring their selections with a violin, piano and guitar player for novelty effects.

The new KHJ male quartet, which made its debut at the first studio broadcast Monday night, again returned by popular request and the ensemble for the recital hour was in the form of Pryor Moore and his concert orchestra.

Tonight's broadcast, instead of commencing at 10 o'clock, as usual, will come in the air early in the afternoon with Bill Henry announcing the football game at Coliseum at 12:30. The station will remain silent during the close of the game and the opening of the dinner program at 6 o'clock.

Los Angeles Conference

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 17.—An older "Dodo Museum" gathered up antiques like Neanderthal man and Java skulls before the opening of the All-P. F. Club's 10th Santa Barbara conference of primitive man and their skins recently.

The still unnamed several years ago organized a group of experts from all over the world to the American Anthropological Association's meeting in New York.

The still unnamed 10th conference with the so-called Olduvai skull, discovered in 1930, the oldest and most complete skull ever found, came from the Omo River valley.

"It comes in three pieces which would suggest the skull was never observed," said Dr. Charles E. O'Neil, director of the museum. "The skull, which consists of two other notable specimens, has been found in more than 100 different places.

Dr. O'Neil said the skull would suggest the skull was never observed, and it cannot be seen from the outside because the skull is broken.

CELEBRATE START OF DALTON DAM

Citizens of Glendale Take Part in Ceremonies Indicating Beginning of Work

Yesterday celebrated the actual beginning of work on the new $600,000 flood-control dam at Big Dalton Canyon, a tributary of the Colorado yesterday. Workmen, machinery, equipment and supplies were brought in by the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors, representatives of the flood control district, and contractors.

John H. Gleason, the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce acting as master of ceremonies, and appropriate speakers, were present.

Glendale Mayor Frank D. Wilson, who had the contract for the construction of the dam, was the principal speaker.

The dam will be completed in time to meet the needs of the community.

Glendale's new municipal water company, the Glendale Water Company, will be completed in time to meet the needs of the community.

At the conclusion of the proceedings, the contractors and the city officials marched down the canyon to the site of the dam.

GIRLS TO DISCUSS PROBLEMS

High School Students in Annual Southern California Conference

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 17.—Nearly 300 girls and their mothers representing eighty-seven high schools in Southern California will gather in the city tomorrow for the opening of the fourteenth annual meeting of the Southern California Federation of Girls' Leagues.

The league was organized primarily by high school girls together in organizations where they work out their own problems with the council or on committees.

Practically every school in Southern California has a chapter, begun with the dean of girls or the head of the group.

Through the Federation of Girls' Leagues there is an exchange of ideas and problems between the members of the federation, senior citizens.

Miss Rita A. Moore
Santa Monica librarian

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 17.—Santa Monica's new public library, at Fifth street and Santa Monica Boulevard, will be opened formally tomorrow evening, to the community, in which the library institutions always have been in demand place. Miss Rita Moore, librarian, has since 1936, and her large staff of assistants will throw open the doors of the public library's housewarming, which friends are expected to attend.

Following an inspection and interview with the architect, E. J. House, will turn the completed structure over to the city. Mayor Herman Michel will visit officially tomorrow, and with the city's chief of police, Captain John A. Martin and Frank Harton, members of the library board, and Mrs. Arthur A. Weber, J. Howard Blanchard, and others.

The new building is more than three times the floor space of the old structure, around which 15 houses built with additions of wings at an expense of $40,000. Large airy and light rooms, including a room for the use of the main lobby, the children's room has attracted attention already even before its completion through the decorations by "Final Fantasy," illustrations of juvenile scenes, and the interior design of the large room, express dramatically the cherished stories of childhood "Peter Pan," "Gulliver" and the other well-known children's books.

From May 17, it was reported, an exhausted and bleeding man staggered into the town's one butcher shop, owned by Justice of the Peace George C. Miller, and gave himself up to his partner, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harton, who had been staying at the hotel.

The attempt to commit suicide was made after a three-hour battle in the hills above the town.

Mr. Miller, who had been staying at the hotel, was given a gun at 11:30 P.M. and shot himself in the head, while attempting to rob the hotel.

Miller was found dead in his room, with his hands over his head, with his eyes closed, and his body covered with blood.

Judge Townsend immediately took charge of the investigation and the sheriff's office, and the coroner's office, but failed to give any name.

In the art gallery, on the second floor, an exhibition of paintings by local artists, under the direction of the library, will be given to the public.

Charles S. Warren will present a collection of wood carvings by Dr. G. C. Clark depicting elephants of 200,000 years old.

State librarians who have served library trustees since 1936, when the library was opened with Miss Moore at the helm, have been invited to the opening of the new library.

Miss Rita Moore, who has graduated from college, and founded the first library in Glendale, has been invited to speak at the opening.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Clark, who have been married for 25 years, will be present.

WORK BUSHED

Through the destruction of sites on both Mono and Bear creeks and the boring of two tunnels, it has been possible to bring all the water from the Mono Basin to the diverted Big Creek-San Joaquin hydroelectric project in the Sierra Nevada mountains.

The diversion is the first of five power units planned.

This is slightly more than one-half of the power of the entire system.

But until this time, Dr. Bellamy, whose original researches into the subject of hybridization of fishes and study of eugenics have brought him national recognition, believes that the development of the super race through scientific breeding can come only through economic necessity and the evolution of a wholly new human race.

But until this time, Dr. Bellamy is convinced, eugenics must take its place beside those other sciences whose potentialities for improving man as a whole are tremendous, but whose actual utilization has been neglected or halted by a phrenetic or ignorant people.

Eugenics has given the world a scientific beginning toward the building of a better race which is coming into being.

But creeks are situated on mountain ridges from the San Joaquin, on which river much construction work of the Edison

hydroelectric project

is already completed.

SELECTIVE BREEDING

Selective mating of humans, the experts believe, will be a splendid ideal, but is apt to remain simply that for generations to come, in the opinion of Dr. A. W. Bellamy of the biology department at Los Angeles.
